

PRESIDENT ASKED TO EXTEND CAMP OF HAWAII GUARD

Delegate Kuhio Cables for Authority; No Answer Yet; Review Impresses Solons

"The President, Washington: "I have been directed by the visiting senators and congressmen to say to you that they have inspected the camp of National Guard of Hawaii and believe it imperative that the period of intensive training be extended to at least three months. Organization is one of best ever seen in the field but geographical location of various units on the several islands necessitates coordinating season of training. It will cost government fifty thousand dollars return men to various islands and reassemble them for emergency duty. Training to date does not fit them for regular duty. Only 4 per cent of personnel engaged in agricultural pursuits and extending time of training will not interfere in food production. Information of any action you may take should reach headquarters, Hawaiian department, immediately in order avoid unnecessary expense breaking camp and transporting the troops from present camp to home station. Commanding general Hawaiian department and governor of Hawaii in full accord regarding extension of period of intensive training. Same is desired by all officers and men."

KALANIANAOLE, "Delegate to Congress from Hawaii."

Up to press: time this afternoon no word had been received from Washington in answer to the foregoing cablegram sent yesterday evening by Delegate J. K. Kalaniana'ole to President Wilson urging that the period of intensive training for the National Guard of Hawaii be extended to at least three months.

It is now believed that no word may be received until tomorrow or possibly the first of next week. The conditions surrounding the sending of this message, including the backing of Governor Pinkham, General Wiser, the delegate to congress and the visiting congressmen, would seem to indicate that the war department may act favorably upon it.

One group consisting of 90 men and three officers from Kona and Kau, Hawaii, came into town this morning and departed on the Mauna Kea for home. A number of changes will probably be made in the transportation schedule for the return trip of most of the outside guardsmen.

Favored by Poindexter
"These men ought to remain in camp for a period long enough to insure their being ready when the call comes," said Senator Miles Poindexter of the military affairs committee yesterday while he was at the National Guard training camp at Kawaiaho. "I have recommended that the men be allowed to remain at the camp for more intensive training."

The views expressed by Senator Poindexter met the approval of all the members of the party, and when Prince Kalaniana'ole expressed a desire to wire Washington asking permission for the continuance of the camp, the members of the party rushed to his support.

When the plan was first discussed

Prince Kalaniana'ole, Brigadier General Samuel I. Johnson, Senator Poindexter, Congressman Welby, Congressman McClintic and Angus Ely were gathered around. Delegate Kalaniana'ole then asked General Johnson what he thought of the plan to keep the men in camp. The commanding officer of the National Guard waxed eloquent on the needs of the men, and with Delegate Kalaniana'ole leading the discussion the various members of the party supported the idea.

"Count me in," said one representative. "We have got to keep these boys here," said another.

"I will sign anything that will help keep these splendid men in camp," was another expression. In five minutes nearly every member of the party agreed that the logical thing to do was to send word at once to President Wilson asking that the guardsmen be allowed to remain at Kawaiaho at least three months.

When the congressional party and members of the Honolulu Automobile club arrived at Camp Liliuokalani, Kawaiaho, yesterday afternoon the two regiments of the brigade were already on the field awaiting the order of march.

As the party passed through the regimental streets there were many comments on the clean appearance of the camp. More than 500 spectators were present when General Wiser and staff were received by General Johnson.

General Johnson rode ahead of the brigade with his staff, and as he passed the reviewing line saluted the visitors. The 1st regiment, composed of men from Oahu, was the first to file past the reviewers. In this regiment were Hawaiians, Portuguese, haoles, Japanese, Filipinos, Chinese and Spanish.

As the men passed by visitors in the crowd shouted: "Hello Sam," "Hello Bill," but not once did the officers and men in line look to the right. A hasty glance and a salute was all. Every thing was carried out in strictly military manner, and the members of the congressional party were surprised to know that the men had been training for only two weeks.

It was the first time that the visitors had seen Chinese and Japanese companies in action, and many remarks were heard that Hawaii had solved the question of bringing the various races together under one military organization.

Cowboys Make Hit

The 2nd regiment with a preponderance of Hawaiians and Filipinos made an excellent impression. In one company a Hawaiian, Japanese, Chinese and Portuguese were marching side by side. The famous troop of cavalry, which was formed from the cowboys at the Parker ranch on Hawaii, made a decided hit with the visitors.

A number of the men gathered around the tents as the party left the camp, and one member of the organization yelled: "Keep us here so we can go 'over there'!"

General Johnson was complimented time and again upon the excellent showing made by the troops.

POLICE COURT NOTES

John Lopez was fined $5 and costs for operating a truck which carried but one headlight.

BIG OPIUM HAUL MADE BY CUSTOMS

One of the biggest "dope" hauls in years was made today when two firemen of a Matson ship in port were taken into custody by customs inspectors.

A tip reached the inspectors that two firemen of the ship were attempting to get opium ashore in spite of the present regulations, which just now are more stringent than ever, due to the war.

Opium is now worth $100 a tin here and the federal officials were more than anxious to shut off a supply reaching the islands.

The two men arrested are both firemen on the Matson steamer. The two booked are Domingo Urasa, a Mexican, and J. W. Julian.

When arrested, Urasa had four cans in possession. He is reported to have bought them in San Francisco for $64 a can, his plan being to bring them to Honolulu and dispose of them at $100 a can. He is in custody pending a commissioner's hearing of his case.

FOR SALE.

Residents of Nuuanu street below Kuakini kept the telephones into the waterworks department busy this morning when the taps refused to supply water. A hydrant blew out in that district this morning at 5 o'clock and the waterworks department was forced to turn off the supply in order to repair the break. It is expected that the water would be turned on again some time this evening.

Christmas stocks are coming in on every steamer and are being unpacked and displayed just as quickly as possible. We want to be well prepared for all those sensible people who are going to do their shopping early.

For instance, I saw in the Linen section yesterday a wonderfully attractive set of Madeira doilies. The workmanship was exquisite—the design a marvel of ingenuity—and the price for set of 13 pieces was only $12.00.

The Hosiery section received a shipment of silk hose for women. All sizes, of course, and many different shades. They are acceptable gifts and good values at $1.25 per pair.

The dress goods buyer told me that he anticipated quite a good holiday business in dress goods and silks. He is featuring dress patterns containing enough material for a suit or dress or waist, wrapped up in an attractive Christmas package. The sales people will gladly tell you how much material will be required for any garment.

On the second floor there are some beautiful pieces of hand-embroidered underwear—all moderately priced. Very suitable for holiday gifts.
